Rice imports readied despite bullish grains outlook

BusineseWorld: 17/May/2017

Philippine-The National Food Authority Council, which regulates the state-grain buyer the National Food Authority (NFA) did not specify an amount, but demand from the Philippines, one of the world's biggest rice importers, could underpin prices in its main suppliers and major exporters Thailand and Vietnam.

The NFA had been seeking the council's approval to import as much as 250,000 tons under government-to-government schemes with Vietnam and Thailand. The committee which decides on the amount to be imported meets on Thursday.

"The NFA will shift from government to government importation to government to private importation, a move that is more competitive, less corrupt and transparent," the NFA Council said in a statement. Read more

Thai Commerce Ministry hopeful rice prices will rise

Thai Visa Team: 19/May/2017

Thailand- Deputy Minister for Commerce Sonthirat Sonthijirawong has said his office is hopeful for rice prices this year but that more factors have to be considered before concluding whether or not the produce will hit 10,000 baht a ton within this year.

The ministry is currently in talks with the Ministry of Agriculture and Cooperatives to find ways to reduce the costs for growing rice, whether by cutting costs for fertilizer or seeds, so that growers will receive a higher profit margin.

At the same time, it wants farmers to maintain the quality of their crops as high quality rice would help push up prices. Read more

Vietname.net: 18/May/2017

Rice exports expected to face tough competition

VietnamNet Bridge; 17/May/2017

Vietname- The inventory volume has reached nearly 1 million tons. Not only Vietnam, but Thailand also has millions of tons of rice in excess. The latter plans to sell eight million tons in stockpile. This means that Vietnam would have to compete with Thailand to sell rice.

Nguyen Van Don, director of Viet Hung Company in Tien Giang said it is even more difficult to export rice in 2017 than the last year. The company still had not signed any export contract by the end of March. It now just gathers strength to deliver rice under contracts signed in 2016.

'The market is unpredictable. However, it would be very difficult to find buyers this year. While the supply is profuse, Vietnam's loyal markets such as the Philippines and Indonesia now can feed themselves, while other markets have tightened control over the import quality," he said. Read more
